UAW DEMANDS
HALF BILLION
OF BIG THREEPORTAL TO PORTAL
CLAIMS PUSHED
IN COURT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The CIO United Auto Workers Union presented a half billion dollar portal to portal bill to the "big three" of the motor car industry Thursday, pushing such claims sought by unions from employers throughout the country past the two and a half billion mark.

The CIO-UAW filed suits in Michigan for claims and damages of $410,000,000 from the Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp., and Chrysler Corp. The new claims brought to $507,000,000 the total sought from the three firms. In addition, the union said suits totaling $32,120,000 were being filed against Ford outside of Michigan.

Ford Largest

The newest suit against Ford asked a total of $190,110,000. Previous claims against Ford brought the total to $270,000,000—the largest sought to date from any single employer.

The General Motors suit covering employees in 20 Michigan plants asked $150,000,000.

The Chrysler suit, covering 12 Michigan plants, sought $70,000,000.

The day marked an all time high in the filing of new portal suits throughout the country with claims in excess of $830,000,000. The new suits brought to more than $2,638,271,000 the portal pay and damages sought from employers.

Meanwhile, the justice department sought federal court permission to enter the portal to portal controversy and a Pittsburgh firm announced it was planning counter action to a portal to portal suit in which a union would be asked to pay damages for an alleged slow down.

Attorney General Tom Clark said the justice department wants to file a brief in the Mt. Clemens Pottery Company case, which touched off the flood of portal suits. Two of his assistants, Clark said, had applied to Federal Judge Frank A. Picard of Detroit for permission to file a brief as a "friend of the court."

A justice department spokesman said the department was not entering the case on either side.

In his original ruling, Judge Picard held the Mt. Clemens pottery workers were entitled to back pay for the time required to go from the clock to work bench. The supreme court upheld his ruling but directed him to determine more accurately the time for which workers were to be compensated. The justice department seeks to offer its help for this job.

Slow-Down Losses Charged

Plans for filing the Pittsburgh counter suit were announced by Col. W. F. Rockwell, president of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. Several representatives of the AFL United Auto Workers recently filed a $600,000 portal claim against the Rockwell firm. His counter suit, Rockwell said, would ask $15,000,000 in damages to compensate the company for what he charged were losses from a slow down.

"It has been recognized for some time," he said in a statement, "that some of our employees, in spite of a written contract, have not worked an eight hour day or a 40 hour week but have expected compensation for eight hours in each day and forty hours in each week."

Democrats Talk
Of Filibuster To Help Sen. Bilbo

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—A filibuster in behalf of Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) threatened tonight after senate Republicans formally directed their steering committee to try to halt him at the senate's threshold.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) told a reporter that he and certain other southern Democrats were prepared to "debate a week or longer." He said that if necessary, he would read every line of the voluminous record of a senate investigation into Bilbo's re-election.

This could prevent all senators elected in 1946 from taking their seats and snarl up organization of the senate.

Asserting that action against Bilbo should wait until, any charges of mis-doing are "proved," Maybank said:

"The Constitution of the United States gives states the right to send two senators here."

"We are determined to see that no Republican is seated tomorrow unless Bilbo takes his seat. This is no demagogic issue. It's a states' rights issue and an issue of the Constitution of the United States."

Intimidation Alleged

There were these other developments in the case of Senator Bilbo, who is accused of intimidating Negroes from voting and of violating the law in his dealings with war contractors:

1. Senator Bridges (R-NH) informed newsmen 48 senate Republicans attending a conference voted unanimously in favor of a plan to challenge Bilbo at the door.

2. A senate Democratic official, who declined to be quoted by name, told a reporter he believed Republicans "have the votes" to keep Bilbo from taking his seat and to prefer charges against him to the new rules committee, headed by Senator Brooks (R-Ill.). This official said enough Democrats would vote with the Republicans to attain this result. However, a filibuster could delay a vote indefinitely.

3. Senator Hoyer (D-NC) declared to reporters that "failure to seat Senator Bilbo would be like sentencing a man without a fair trial." He said, "The proper procedure would be to swear him in without prejudice, which would mean that he could have a fair trial both on his fitness to be a senator and with respect to any violations of law."

4. Senator Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the senate Republican conference said he wanted to make it very clear that "there can be nothing come up tomorrow that will decide the senate's action in the Bilbo case." The only question to be decided, he said is whether Bilbo shall be allowed to take the oath—"the decision on the merits will come up later."

CHINESE WANT
U. S. TROOPS OUTStudent Group Marches
On Embassy; Papers
Arouse Feeling

Nanking, Jan. 2 (AP)—Chinese students marched on the United States embassy and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government headquarters today, demanding immediate withdrawal of American troops from China, but decided later to cancel further demonstrations.

Leaders of the 1,000 marchers had said they intended to go to the Chinese foreign office and the home of General Marshall, special presidential envoy to China, but a mass meeting of students voted without explanation to call off this program.

An incident of alleged rape in Peiping, involving a Chinese girl and two U. S. Marines, was the basis for the demonstrations, which students have staged in Peiping and Shanghai as well as Nanking.

The government-controlled central news agency said official circles deplored the fact that the girl's case had been "exploited by certain elements to arouse anti-American feeling" and that the public was "perplexed to find it magnified out of all proportion, particularly when they remember with gratitude American aid during and after the war."

(The agency heretofore had made no editorial comment, while many Chinese papers had played up the case with inflammatory stories and headlines.) Shanghai remained relatively quiet after a noisy anti-American demonstration Wednesday by 6,000 to 7,000 students, who posted placards showing American servicemen in Japanese uniforms.

Surplus War Property
Sales Called Sloppy
By House Committee

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—In a scorching report his "sloppy" business methods, a House committee warned today that it cost the government more to use of its vast stocks of surplus war property than it realizes on sales.

Prepared by a special committee which inquired into the disposal job, the report also alleged "favoritism, if not downright corruption."

The committee said the responsibility for the situation must be attributed in large measure "to the early handling of the program and to the constant shifting of responsibilities for its accomplishment among various agencies."

The committee is headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo.), who was defeated for renomination by Enos A. Axtell, Democrat backed by President Truman. Axtell in turn lost to a Republican.

Since it started its inquiry, the committee said, it has noted that the program is being handled in a "far more efficient manner than was the case when the committee began its deliberations." It gave credit to Robert M. Littlejohn, present war assets administrator, for the improvement.

To improve the disposal job, the committee recommended:

Elimination of most existing priorities for the purchase of property other than real estate.

Removal of international organizations from a position "where they enjoy a preferred status over American business."

Insurance against speculators forming "non-profit" schools to make themselves eligible for "enormous discounts in the acquisition of surplus property."

To date, the committee said, the monetary return to the government from surplus sales "has been minute."

It said property costing approximately $12,500,000,000 already has been disposed of for about $2,500,000,000 gross, or 17.5 percent "before charging off the hundreds of millions of dollars which have been spent in the disposal program."

The total surplus, it added, probably amounts to about $29,000,000,000 (original cost).

When the farmer arrived he found them dead.

Eleven Students Trapped
In New Zealand Alps;
Four Are Girls

Christchurch, New Zealand, Jan. 2 (AP)—Eleven student mountain climbers, four of them girls, were trapped tonight in vast glacial wastes in the heart of New Zealand's Southern Alps after a terrifying plunge down a mountain-side in which two others of their party were killed.

The party, five of their number injured seriously, faced the prospect of a second freezing night 30 miles from civilization, as two rescue parties rushed toward the Mueller glacier, near Mount Cook on South Island.

Few details of the accident were available, but it was understood that the students from Victoria University College in Wellington, were roped together when it occurred. As the party clambered perilously toward the summit of a peak called High Saddle, one of the four girls slipped. Her misstep caused an avalanche of snow, and the entire party was hurled down the mountain-side.

Two of the men in the party were killed; four other men and one of the girls were hurt.

LOWER STATE
TIED UP WITH
SLEET STORMMOST OF COUNTRY
HIT BY BITTER
COLD WAVE

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan staggered under a new weather onslaught today as sleet and snow threatened to halt traffic.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Chicago issued a special warning to the southern part of the state to prepare for as much as 10 inches of snow.

Airplanes were already grounded and bus service from the south slowed. Industry blamed a high rate of absenteeism on the weather.

The Automobile Club of Michigan reported all roads open but warned that highways south of Detroit are "a glare of ice."

In the Upper Peninsula where snow lay in depths up to 17 inches, travel on highways was by single lane in some sectors. A high wind which might drift the snow onto these narrow trenches was feared.

However, Lower Michigan, with temperatures generally at about 25 degrees, was worse off.

More Coming

The Auto Club said road conditions are exactly the reverse of normal. Travel to the north, where the snow offered traction, was safer than to the south towards Ohio and Illinois where icing was general.

A freezing rain hit Detroit and southeastern Michigan, glazing windshields of cars and slowing traffic.

The weather bureau in Detroit forecast continued rain changing to snow during the night in southern Michigan with colder weather and more snow Friday.

The Upper Peninsula may expect snow flurries and colder weather Friday, the bureau added.

The weather was blamed by Detroit auto plants for absenteeism that ran up to 19 per cent above normal. The slippery streets deterred many workers from going to their jobs.

Chicago struggled to hold its transport lines operative, reported one death, and looked forward to more snow.

A total of 6½ inches of snow was on the ground at 6:30 p. m. The U. S. weather bureau reported, with an additional 3½ inches expected by morning. But it remained short of the 19.2 inch record set in March, 1930, the bureau said.

The one death reported was that of David Evans De Swarte.

FAMOUS CROOK
HUNTER RETIRES'Dasher Jack' Hangs Up
Gold Pistol After
35-Year Career

BY J. R. HANSEN

San Francisco, Jan. 2 (AP)—"Dasher Jack" Cannon hung up his gold pistol today after 35 years of hunting crooks for the San Francisco police department—from the Barbary coast to Japan and China.

"Dasher Jack"—so named by the Duke of Manchester for his dapper appearance—will continue to wear a white carnation in his lapel as he has every day on duty for the past 30 years, many of them years when a copper had to be tough to deal with the "Coast." The duke gave him the pistol.

Inspector Cannon, now 57, reminisced readily about the past but was in no hurry about making plans for the future.

"I'm just going to take it easy for a while."

One of the highlights in Cannon's memory is the time he trailed a Chinese girl, accused of embezzling $25,000 from her San Francisco employer. He followed her across the Pacific, through Japan and China, finally catching up with her in Hongkong. The girl, Jung She, was convicted in a British court in Hong Kong. Cannon said, but was acquitted in superior court here after Cannon returned her to San Francisco.

Cannon "shot it out" with criminals four times, including his participation in the capture of the "White-Masked Bandits," a notorious gang of five men that terrorized San Francisco for a time in the late '20's. He was a crack shot—and he never was wounded.

Sigler's Message
Praised; Hopes To Avoid New Taxes

Lansing, Jan. 2 (AP)—Generally favorable reaction to Governor Sigler's message to the 64th legislature was apparent tonight among the legislators.

Veteran Rep. Alpheus P. Decker, Sanilac Republican, went so far as to say it "was the best I've heard in my 14 years in the House."

Appearing at a joint convention of the Senate and House on the second day of his term, the governor declared he believed the state's financial difficulties could be solved without new taxes.

Legislators, however, greeted this with some misgivings. They made it plain they wished new taxes could be avoided, but they were not entirely certain they would be.

The governor's disclosure that he was withholding his budgetary recommendations until he could study the financial situation further was greeted as a sensible approach.

"The solution," Sigler said, referring to financial matters, "will be found in a more equitable distribution of our income and responsibilities."

Hits At Graft

Sigler recommended specific legislation on 14 major points, and high on the list were measures to forestall graft. His election as governor followed closely his spectacular performance as special prosecutor for the state graft grand jury.

The silver-haired governor asked for legislation to pay legislators' living expenses while attending sessions to remove the economic incentive of accepting the bribes.

A measure to outlaw "the sale of political influence," Sigler said, would aid the fight against graft. He said "A certain politician of great political weight" was acquitted recently in the absence of such a law.

He called for measures to regulate lobbying and to forbid legislators to appear before state boards and commissions to represent personal clients.

Sigler urged consolidation of all state labor agencies into one body with the exception of workmen's compensation law. That, he said, should be set up under a separate court. He asked also for modernization of the state's 35-year-old child labor laws.

He urged the establishment of a retirement and pension system for judges of the Michigan courts.

Sigler asked the legislature to abolish the state planning commission and grant its authority, with greatly expanded powers, to a new commission which, apparently, would be a sort of super-state chamber of commerce.

Speed Up Bonus

He likewise recommended a revision of state laws affecting agriculture, emphasizing the need for modern approaches to marketing to standardizing Michigan's dairy industry, to control shipment of

ECONOMY DRIVE
CAUTION URGEDCheap Army And Navy
May Be Expensive,
Congress Told

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—In an apparent effort to block an economy drive at the expense of the armed forces, the House naval committee cautioned Congress today that "The most expensive thing in the world is a cheap army and navy."

The assertion was incorporated in a lengthy report which endorsed a sub-committee's recommendation for American retention of Pacific island security bases and which urged preservation of a "healthy" aircraft industry.

Chief of these recommendations were:

1. "At least" dominating control by the United States over the former Japanese mandated islands, and over the outlying Japanese islands of the Izu, Bonin and Ryukyu.

2. "Specific and substantial rights" for the United States to sites where American bases were constructed on Allied territory.

3. Full title to the United States to Manus, Nommea, Espiritu Santo, Guadalcanal and other sites of American bases on islands "mandated to, or claimed by, other nations."

4. The United States "must not permit its Pacific bases to lapse back to a state of unpreparedness, as in the instance of Guam and Wake, prior to the present war."

Jim Farley Boomed
As Running Mate
For Truman In 1948

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 2 (AP)—Former Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring said today he had "aided" a movement to boom James A. Farley as a running mate for President Truman in 1948.

Woodring, former governor of Kansas and secretary of war in the early part of President Roosevelt's administration, expressed the belief that a Truman-Farley ticket would be "the strongest Democrats could offer."

His disclosure that he had "aided" a movement for the former postmaster general followed a New York Daily News story that a Truman-Farley boom would be "openly launched" at the Jefferson Day dinner in New York some time in April.

INCOME LEVY
SLASH GIVEN
TOP PRIORITYREPUBLICANS BACK IN SADDLE AFTER
15-YEAR LAPSE

BY ROGER D. GREENE

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The nation's lawmakers rallied tonight for the advent of a new era—the first session of the 80th Congress tomorrow—amid predictions that a 20 per cent cut in personal income taxes will be the first bill introduced.

On the eve of the momentous session, Chairman-to-be Knutson (R-Minn.) of the House ways and means committee, announced that legislation proposing the 20 per cent reduction will be brought up for top priority consideration.

The measure would cut $3,500,000,000 from personal income taxes "across the board" in 1947.

Bilbo Fight Watched

Knutson voiced confidence the measure will be passed, despite previous opposition in both Democratic and Republican ranks. He said the bill "will be introduced at high noon" tomorrow.

Besides taxes, the nation's attention was focussed on the dramatic fight to bar Senator Theodore G. Bilbo (D-Miss.) from taking his seat as Congress prepared to convene under Republican domination for the first time in 15 years.

In an eleven-hour action intensifying the anti-Bilbo movement, the Senate Republican steering committee today recommended that the Mississippi senator be halted at the Senate door when he attempts to take the oath tomorrow.

The committee's proposed strategy, if acted upon, would prevent Bilbo from staging one of his famous filibusters in his own defense.

Differences Dissolved

Back in the "middle for the first time since the Hoover regime, the Republicans dissolved their differences over the key post of floor leader in the GOP-dominated House. The choice went to Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who, in that role, will quarterback the Republican team in the House.

Halleck's selection was assured when Reps. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio withdrew from the race. Earlier, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio had also withdrawn.

In the Senate, the Democratic minority elected Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as their floor leader and named Senator Lucas of Illinois as "whip"—the man who rounds up straying party members when their votes are needed at a critical juncture.

Republican senators had previously chosen Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan as presiding officer in the GOP-controlled Senate, with Senator Wallace White of Maine as Republican floor leader and Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska as GOP whip.

Democrats Praise Truman
As the day of fast-moving preliminaries ended, the House Democrats adopted a resolution commending President Truman and expressing confidence that:

"Under his leadership the United States will continue its forward march to continued and increasing prosperity and to enduring and lasting peace and comity in our relations with all nations of the world."

HOOSIER HEADS FORCES OF GOP

Scrappy Charles Halleck
Chosen Republican
Leader In House

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—A scrappy little 46-year old Hoosier will do the quarterbacking for the Republicans in the House of Representatives.

For 12 years, Indiana's Representative Charles A. Halleck, chosen House Republican leader, has been one of Congress' liveliest lambasters of the New Deal. A fiery advocate of "freedom of enterprise," he has constantly hammered at "regimentation and extravagance" in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Halleck came to Washington in 1935 as "the first man to beat the McNutt machine in Indiana." He was the solitary Republican in Indiana's delegation of representatives. Only 90 of the 425 members of the House were Republicans.

Halleck, who operates two Indiana farms by remote control, says: "Back in 1935, I felt like a bantam rooster in a barn lot full of Clydesdales. Dodging those flying Democratic hoves in those days was no picnic."

He was a comparative unknown until 1940 when he made the speech nominating Wendell Willkie for president at the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia. In later years, however, Halleck differed from Willkie on foreign policy.

Halleck has a ruddy, boyish face and a pleasantly modulated voice. He is an agile speaker, particularly fast in the give and take of debate on the House floor. There are gray streaks in his thick black hair.

Halleck jumped from the Indiana University law school into public office and has been there ever since without a single election setback. He was a student at the law school when he won a primary fight for prosecuting attorney in his home circuit. After graduation—he was at the head of his class for three years—he won the election and was re-elected four times.

Man Mentally Ill Blamed In Killing Of Two Detectives

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 2 (AP)—The murder-and-suicide shooting of Detective Chief O. N. Martin, 51, and Detective Lieut. O. F. (Jack) Deubler, 31, was attributed officially today to Martin's "delusions of persecution."

Coroner Howard A. Dishongh said his investigation showed Martin, a member of the Little Rock police force since 1918, was mentally sick.

The two were shot to death in a sparsely settled suburban area yesterday slightly more than an hour after they had left police headquarters together. Dishongh said Martin shot Deubler four times with a sawed-off shotgun, then shot himself through the head with his own pistol.

Average Mental Patient's I. Q. 8 Below Normal

Boston, (SS)—The average mental patient has an I. Q. (intelligence quotient) eight points below the normal expectancy of 100 points, Dr. Albert Rabin of the New Hampshire State Hospital at Concord, N. H., reported at the meeting here of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Alcoholics and neurotics rated highest intellectually, epileptics and syphilitics among the lowest.

His report was based on adult intelligence tests given to 1,000 state hospital patients representing consecutive admissions. In the group 21 different kinds of mental illness had been diagnosed.

These patients had had about as much school education as the general population of the United States. They did not, however, reach as high occupational levels before entering the hospital as the population of the state as a whole.

Fewer of them had been in professional and managerial work and more had been in service and unskilled occupations.

Drunk Drivers Get Lockup In Detroit

Detroit, Jan. 2 (AP)—Traffic Judge John D. Watts today carried out his pre-holiday threat to jail persons who "mix drinking and driving."

"New Year's apparently caught you in spite of everything we told you," the judge told six men before sentencing them to serve 20 days each in the Detroit House of Correction.

Twenty-six motorists in all went to court today as a New Year's aftermath, 15 charged with drunk driving and 11 with reckless driving.

With party harmony already achieved among the Republicans, after weeks of intramural squabbling over leadership posts, the Democrats also closed ranks with the unanimous selection of 64-year-old Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas as his party's floor leader in the House.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts will take over Rayburn's gavel tomorrow as speaker of the House. He was formerly the Republican floor leader.

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman worked on the final stages of his state of the union message which he will present to Congress next Monday. The president's address is expected to call for a bipartisan policy on such vital matters as anti-strike legislation, taxes, compulsory military training and reciprocal trade.

Brooms Passed Out
Most lawmakers predicted that the snow-balling dilemma of portal-to-portal pay will come to the immediate forefront in the new Congress, but Senator Thomas (D-Utah), co-author of the law from which the controversy stems, said today Congress should keep "hands off" until the courts have had their say. So far, suits totaling more than $2,000,000,000 have been filed seeking to recover back portal-to-portal pay from employers.

On the question of seating Bilbo, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared that if the Republicans act tomorrow they will get enough Democratic votes to bar the Mississippi solon, who has been accused of misusing his office and violating the law in deals with war contractors.

A majority vote would be needed to block Bilbo's seating.

A note of humor was injected into the final day's activities before Congress gets down to business when Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) passed out new brooms to his fellow GOP members. To each broom was attached a large card with the legend: "Here's yours. Let's do the job."

BY ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Congress goes to work tomorrow in a couple of rooms that look like old gymnasiums. Only the gyms usually are better lighted.

The House and Senate chambers look like gymnasiums because each ceiling is supported by a network of steel beams.

Engineers decided the ancient ceilings were unsafe, so in 1941 the beams were put in. Without this support, congressional oratory might literally have become roof-shaking.

Both the House and Senate chambers are built on the same plan. A gallery runs around each. From this balcony spectators may peer down on legislators in action.

Now for a few differences in the two places.

The Senate:

Its desks have been carefully divided. The 51 Republican desks are to the left of the presiding officer. The 45 Democratic desks are on his right.

The desks of beautiful mahogany, shine brilliantly. Behind each desk is a red leather chair.

The Senate usually is more dignified and formal than the House. Its page boys wear short pants. The senators apparently never heard of a public address system, and consequently they are hard to hear.

The snuff box on each senator's desk has been filled.

The House:

Its 444 bench-like seats are arranged in a semi-circle. The 245 Republicans have only 222 seats on their side, but they probably won't show up simultaneously very often.

Unlike the Senate, House members have no desks, and they sit wherever they please.

The House is informal, and its page boys wear long pants. Its members use microphones, and consequently can be heard very plainly.

If they want to dip snuff, they have to bring their own.

Old Age Insurance Covers 4,800,000 Workers For Life

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The turn of the New Year automatically meant at least minimum old age and survivors insurance for life for an estimated 4,800,000 workers, social security officials said today.

These workers are those who were in covered employment when the social act went into effect on January 1, 1937, and who have remained in such employment since. They are now classified as "permanently insured."

City Council Discusses Tax Extension, Zoning, And Librarians' Bonus

The city council last night at its regular semi-monthly meeting authorized an extension of the city tax payment date to Feb. 15, and reaffirmed a previously expressed policy on the zoning of the 300 block Ludington street.

Discussing a request by the Craftwood corporation for the sale or rental of Lots 6 and 7, Block 11, adjoining their present location, the council restated its belief that the 300 block, Ludington street, though now a commercial area, should be regarded as primarily a residential district.

The city originally purchased these lots with the specific intention of holding them for resale as residential properties, and with the idea in mind that apartment houses might some day be erected thereon.

While reaffirming its original purpose, the council agreed that in the meantime the lots could be offered for rent to the Craftwood corporation for use as a post-yard at a yearly rental of $100, the produce against transportation of plant diseases, better grading of produce and state laboratories to improve fungicides and insecticides.

The legislature was asked to move quickly to put into effect the $270,000,000 veterans' bonus voted by the people last November.

Asserting he was in agreement with the principles of unemployment compensation, Sigler said he was "disturbed by charges of improper administration."

He said he would immediately appoint a study commission to investigate these charges. The committee, to report in 30 days and to set the stage for later recommendations to the legislature, will include members of labor and management, Sigler said.

Without specific recommendation, the new governor expressed a desire to relieve overcrowding in state mental institutions and to expand its program for the prevention of mental illnesses.

Sigler urged the legislature to enact a law to give the state regulatory control and tax powers over the insurance business after Jan. 1, 1948, a move necessitated by an act of Congress.

Without going into details, Sigler said he would submit a later message for correcting "certain unsatisfactory conditions" in the state's conservation program.

Program Well Received
He promised messages later on the subject of liquor control, law enforcement, highways, child welfare, education, public health, public assistance, aviation and the building program.

Comments of legislators: Sen. Harry F. Hittle, president pro-tem of the Senate: "It was a most unusual statement of sound principles of government and was generally well received."

Victor A. Knox, speaker of the House: "I am glad the governor is taking such an interest in the financial affairs of the state. I hope we get by without new taxes, but if it comes to a question of the solvency of the state I would vote for them."

Sen. Otto W. Bishop, chairman of the finance committee: "A very comprehensive statement," as specific as could be at this time. I think Sigler has the backbone to make good on it."

Sen. Stanley Nowak of Detroit, Democratic floor leader: "The governor * * * failed completely to outline a program for the many problems our state is facing. He has * * * no solution for such burdensome problems as housing for the veterans or medical care."

Rep. Charles R. Feenstra, Grand Rapids Republican: "I'm not sure we can escape new taxes, but I'll tell you this much—we can certainly make curtailment in state expenses."

LABOR BILLS READY

Lansing, Jan. 2 (AP)—The first of several expected restrictive labor bills emerged in the Senate today as the Michigan legislature completed its second day of business and recessed until Tuesday afternoon.

The measure, introduced by Senator Arthur E. Wood, Detroit Republican, would force labor unions to disclose their financial operations.

Under its terms, a union would be outlawed unless its president and secretary reported to the state department of labor and industry the names and addresses of all union officers, its scale of dues, initiation fees, fines and assessments, and the salaries of all officers.

Annual reports, listing all income and to whom all money was paid out were also proposed. It would hold that no union could require a person, as a condition of employment, to pay any fees or assessments not authorized by the union's constitution and by-laws.

The labor department would be given authority to inquire into union records.

The Senate's four-man Democratic minority in caucus elected Senator Stanley Nowak, Detroit Democrat, as its floor leader and pledged itself to avoid "obstructionist" tactics.

Building Permits Make Leap In 1946

Building permits issued by City Clerk Carl Anderson's office took a startling jump in 1946 both in number and in valuation.

There were 310 Building permits issued in 1946 to a total valuation of $500,244, as against 118 permits in 1945 with a total valuation of $104,516, and 32 permits in 1944 with a valuation of $8,015.

In 1944, of course, building permits were issued only upon the obtaining of proper priorities from the War Production Board. After V-J day, in August, 1945, such priorities lost their weight, and resulted in the spectacular jump of building permits.

On March 6, 1946, government restrictions again went into effect under the Veterans' Emergency Housing program, but whether this helped or hindered the ultra spectacular leap of Escanaba building permits deponent sayeth not.

Attractive Victim Of Camera Shooting Has Leg Amputated

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—The attractive 28-year-old victim of a New Year's Eve subway "camera" shooting was reported by police to have undergone an operation for amputation of her left leg today. The girl who said she unwittingly fired the gun was ordered held as a material witness.

Roosevelt hospital authorities declined to confirm that the operation on Mrs. Olga Rocco had taken place.

A nine-state hunt was under way for Alphonse Rocco, the victim's 30-year-old former husband, but police reported no new leads in the search. Mrs. Rocco has accused him of master-minding the scheme in which she was blasted in the thigh with a shell from a 12-gauge sawed-off shotgun concealed in a Christmas-wrapped package.

Pearl Lusk, the 19-year-old blonde who fired the gun and told police a man she identified from a picture as Rocco had duped her into believing it was an "X-ray camera," was held in $10,000 bail.

Battle Develops In House To Keep Liquor Taxes Up

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Prospects of a House battle over liquor taxes developed today as Rep. Rees (R-Kans.) announced he will offer legislation to hold the levy on distilled spirits at $9 a proof gallon, heading off an automatic drop to $6 on July 1.

Meanwhile, Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), new chairman of the House ways and means committee, disclosed that legislation proposing a 20 per cent cut in personal income taxes "across the board" will be introduced as House Bill No. 1 when the new Congress convenes tomorrow.

This, if passed, would slash $3,500,000,000 from the personal income tax load in 1947.

Tax burdens were cut $1,500,000,000 a year, beginning July 1, when President Truman on Thursday proclaimed an end to hostilities. The 1943 tax bill requires that certain excise levies—including liquor, furs, jewelry and cosmetics—be reduced to specified levels six months after the end of hostilities.

Chattanooga, Tenn., reported a steady drizzle and fog covered most of Virginia. A freezing rain fell in much of New York State after a heavy snowfall. Sleet made travel hazardous in Maryland and heavy snow disrupted transportation in Kentucky.

Many parts of Louisiana and Mississippi had rain and several communities in the northern part of the two states were isolated when ice cracked communication lines.

Snowfall was general over Kansas and Missouri.

Normal temperatures and generally clear skies prevailed in most of the Far West.

Briefly Told

Fire Calls—The Escanaba fire department had one false alarm and two legitimate calls over the holidays. Firemen started the new year with a call on Jan. 1 at 3:35 p. m. to 802 South 17th street where a fire in a clothes closet caused some slight damage. At 11:50 p. m. that night, an overheated stove at 1114 Sheridan Road started a damaging fire which required the booster pump to extinguish.

Charles Harvey left Sunday on the "400" to return to Michigan State college at East Lansing after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harvey, 923 Sixth avenue south.

UTHROTAR TO MEET IN CITY

District Officers Will Discuss Wausau Meeting Plans

District officers of Uthrotar, boys' auxiliary to Rotary clubs of the 143rd district, will hold their first quarterly conference at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office today and Saturday. The opening session will begin at 10 a. m.

Delegates in attendance will be: Kenneth Nielson, Marquette, district Uthrotar governor, who will preside; William Eck, lieutenant-governor; Bill Morien, New London, treasurer; James Degnan Jr., Escanaba, secretary; Art Gilmas-ter, Wisconsin Rapids, sergeant-at-arms; and Coy Terry, Manistiquette; Ted Sibelsky, Houghton; Charles Littlefield, Neenah; Marvin Lornson, Menasha, district leaders.

Meeting with the boys in an advisory capacity will be Harold P. Lindsay, governor of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district of Rotary clubs, and the following Rotarians, Wallace Watt, H. D. Brackett and Edward E. Edick.

This is the first quarterly meeting of the Uthrotar officers since they held their summer conference at Clear Lake last summer. Plans for the district convention to be held in Wausau next spring will be discussed at the two-day conference.

Removal Continues Despite Breakdown; Garbage Is Hauled

Over New Year's, the Escanaba street department's tractor plow and its bull-dozer kept right on with the job of snow removal, while mechanics in the city garage labored to put broken-down equipment back into service.

"Our big bank-pushing plow is going out as soon as we can get it ready," Superintendent of streets Joseph Holmes said yesterday. "It's necessary to get our streets widened to the curbs as soon as we possibly can. And in so doing, we're going to be throwing snow into paths and driveways already shoveled out by individual citizens. We hate to do it, and we apologize beforehand, but there just isn't anything else we can do. Ordinarily, we try to plow the streets and push the banks at the same time, so people will have to do their shoveling only once. But due to the unusual amount of snow and to the steady breakdown of equipment, we just can't help it this time."

The snow-loader is still working on Ludington street. Each day it moves 1500 yards of snow. On December 30, the high day, it moved 1950 yards. After the 30th, it was retracing its route, cleaning up.

Probably it will take till Saturday night to clean Ludington street, which job done, loader and crew will move over to Stephenson.

Patterson-Jensen Vote Recount Is Scheduled

A seven-man committee of Michigan legislators headed by Rep. Howard R. Carroll of Mt. Clemens, Macomb county, will come to Escanaba Tuesday, Jan. 7, to begin its recount of votes cast for the office of representative in Delta county.

Delta County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen yesterday was notified by telephone by Norman Thillio, clerk of the house, that the group would be here Tuesday, and requested that hotel rooms be reserved for them, and that space be made available to them in the court house in Escanaba.

The recount will determine whether Mrs. Violet Patterson of Perkins and Lansing, Democrat, or Roy A. Jensen, Republican, and a business man of Escanaba, will be seated in the legislature as representing Delta county.

The House Committee appointed by speaker Victor A. Knox included Rep. Carroll, Mt. Clemens Republican, chairman; and committee members Reps. James Goulette, Iron Mountain Republican; Carl G. Lindquist, Iron River Republican; Alvin E. Richards, Marquette Republican; Henry T. Gage, Grosse Pointe Republican; Louis Mezzano, Wakefield Democrat, and Robert Brown, Ecorse Democrat.

In a report of the votes cast in the county for the two candidates, the county board of canvassers reported that Mrs. Patterson has received a 43-vote majority. Jensen petitioned the legislature for a recount, and questioned Mrs. Patterson's eligibility to hold the office, charging that she is not a qualified resident of the county. He also charged the canvassing board with certain "irregularities" which the board later denied in a public statement.

The county clerk yesterday said that the clerk of the house of representatives had requested that the members of the county canvassing board attend the recount session to assist in answering questions which might arise. The board of canvassers, composed of John Wolf, Escanaba, chairman, John Richardson, Gladstone, and Edward LaMotte of Garden have been notified to be at the court house in Escanaba at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The recount will be held in jury rooms, second floor of the court house.

War Powers Vanish

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S surprise year-end proclamation marking the "end of hostilities" on World War II does not dissolve the state of war that still exists between the United States and the Axis powers. This will require congressional action and it undoubtedly will be held in abeyance until the final terms of the peace treaties are written and accepted.

Nevertheless, the presidential proclamation voids considerable war emergency legislation and is a far reaching step towards the attainment of peacetime operation of the national government. One of the principal immediate effects of the proclamation is to dissolve the government's authority to seize strike-bound plants. Industrial labor relations thus become the sole responsibility of labor and management with the possibility of direct government intervention cast aside.

Another important aspect of the presidential proclamation is a substantial reduction in federal taxes, starting July 1, through the removal or substantial reductions of many excise taxes that were adopted during the war years to help pay the cost of the war.

The president's action was a surprise, but a welcome one to the incoming congress which was prepared to cease wartime governmental powers as rapidly as possible. The president apparently adequately sensed the public attitude on such matters as a result of the thumping Republican victory in the fall election and acted accordingly.

Skiers Look Northward

SKIING enthusiasts in Chicago, Milwaukee and the larger cities in Lower Michigan are reported by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau as looking toward the Upper Peninsula for the enjoyment of their sport in the winters of the future.

Iron Mountain already has been receiving an influx of city skiers. Good connections with the Milwaukee Road, coupled with national publicity received from its super-duper ski jumping tournament, has focused much attention on the Pine Mountain slopes. Similarly, Ishpeming has enjoyed a fair amount of winter tourist business in recent years, and a trickle of this type of traffic has gone as far north as the Copper Country.

Ski clubs in Chicago and Lower Wisconsin cities are displaying much interest in the plans for the development of recreational skiing in the Porcupine Mountains, recently acquired by the state conservation department. The Porcupines are reported to be the best bet for recreational skiing in the Upper Peninsula, a claim that might be challenged by other winter sports centers, however.

Both Escanaba and Gladstone have outstanding winter sports developments, although these might be classed as small scale layouts when compared with the programs offered at the famous resorts in the New England and Rocky Mountain regions. Thus far, we have concentrated our efforts in Delta county to providing wholesome winter recreation for our own folks and any visitors who care to come, and there is no denying that we have made considerable progress.

By-Passing The U. P.

THE United States Bureau of Public Roads is reported to have drawn a long-range program of federal highway improvements designed to "by-pass" the inner populated centers" of large cities. Accompanying its announcement is a map showing the highway network envisioned for the future—and this virtually by-passes the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Only federal highway in the Upper Peninsula shown on the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads highway map of the future is Highway US-2 between St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie. This is a distance of approximately 60 miles, and that highway serves only a fraction of the total through traffic in Northern Michigan.

If the proposed federal highway improvements are to closely follow the mapped plans, then the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin have a legitimate right to direct the attention of the Bureau of Public Roads to its lamentable oversight. For the map fails to show one foot of proposed improvement on federal highways north of Milwaukee into the Upper Peninsula.

Certainly the people of Green Bay, of Marinette, Iron Mountain, Menominee, Escanaba and Marquette and the Copper Country would not agree that they are not adequately served by existing north-south federal highways. The highways in the Upper Peninsula leading to those south of Marinette and through Green Bay, although the farther south you go the greater is the volume of traffic.

The Upper Peninsula tourist industry is dependent upon the extension and improvement of federal highways from the south. An improved highway leading only from the Straits of Mackinac to Sault Ste.

Marie does not answer that problem. Highway improvements north of Milwaukee into the Upper Peninsula are equally, if not more important.

Perhaps it is significant that federal Highway US-41, which has its northern terminal at Keweenaw Point in the Upper Peninsula, is not scheduled for any improvement north of Milwaukee; but every foot of it from Milwaukee south to Miami, Florida, is mapped for future improvement.

Eisenhower for President?

THE Washington Times-Herald reports that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is ready to run for president in 1948 if the people want him.

Just where the Times-Herald obtained its information on General Eisenhower's political views was not revealed. Previous attempts by newspaper men to sound him out on the presidency brought only the reply that he did not wish to embarrass his commander-in-chief, Pres. Harry S. Truman, by discussing this phase of politics.

General Eisenhower is believed by the politicians to have more vote appeal than General MacArthur. His party affiliation is not really known, for there is the impression that he has voted both tickets in the past.

One of General Eisenhower's staunchest supporters is Senator Arthur Capper, Republican of Kansas, who is reported to feel that there are many people in the Republican party who have not been satisfied with either Dewey or Taft. And there are many followers of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt who feel the same way about President Truman.

Illustrious military careers proved to be springboards for the presidency for George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Zachary Taylor, Ulysses S. Grant and Theodore Roosevelt. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood tried to capitalize his war record to win the Republican presidential nomination in 1920, but was unsuccessful. Whether history will repeat itself remains to be seen.

Out With Bilbo

THE decision of the Republican steering committee of the senate to attempt to bar Bilbo of Mississippi from a senate seat is good news to the overwhelming majority of American people who believe in the dignity of the United States senate. By the same token, it is disgusting to note that the Democratic members of the senate campaign investigating committee have indicated that they will report they found no reason to deny Bilbo a senate seat.

The issue involved here is not a partisan one. If Bilbo should be denied a seat in the U. S. Senate because of his crooked tactics in the Mississippi campaign and because he accepted bribes from war contractors, the Republicans would not gain his seat. Mississippi is a Democratic state and Bilbo's successor, of course, would be a Democrat.

There has been overwhelming testimony to prove beyond any doubt that Bilbo is not the kind of a character deserving of a seat in the nation's most exalted legislative forum. The Democrats must recognize that, too, and help to keep the senate membership on a high level.

The justice department has revealed that it is investigating the affairs of Senator Bilbo and it is a foregone conclusion that it will find plenty of evidence to support criminal indictments against the Mississippi senator.

SITUATION NORMAL

(Chicago Daily News)

The annual warnings about the disadvantages of the common cold have started, with no sign of that brighter postwar world that we all had half-believed in. The cold situation appears to remain about what it was when a phrase-making physician defined it thus: "A cold is an infection of the respiratory passages that ordinarily yields to treatment in about two weeks. In the absence of treatment it usually runs its course in around a fortnight."

Despite the variety of individual opinions on what to do about a cold, there is one thing on which we all should be able to agree. Since after getting a cold we have to keep it awhile, we can at least make the effort to keep it to ourselves.

Most of the folks who played the football pools discovered that things really aren't for the better.

In these frozen food days the frost is not only on the pumpkin, but on the pumpkin pie.

A POINT OF USAGE

Mayville: Consider the following conversation at our dining room table:

She: Well, tomorrow is Sunday.

He: You mean, tomorrow will be Sunday.

She: No; I mean that right now, today, this very minute, tomorrow is Sunday.

And so on far into the meal. Which is correct?—M. O. S.

Answer: From time to time, readers have asked me to point out the "incorrectness" of the common expression, "What day is tomorrow? Tomorrow is Sunday." Many insist that "tomorrow" is a ridiculous scrambling of the present and future tenses, that the present tense of the verb (is) cannot be used for the future (tomorrow).

But there is nothing illogical or ungrammatical in such usage, which is well established in English idiom. The idea of the future is conveyed not by the verb (is), but by the subject (tomorrow).

The late Thomas R. Lounsbury, Emeritus Professor of English at Yale, said: "A person ordinarily says 'tomorrow is' that is, he says so if he uses the language correctly. If he chances to be in the com-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Shortly after the new Congress convenes, the war department will send up a request for $300,000,000 to cover a deficit in the cost of occupying Germany, Australia, Japan and Korea during the past year. This sizable deficiency is a measure of the responsibility we confront in former enemy countries.

At the same time it is likely to provide a measure of the intentions of the new Republican minorities on this most critical question. Here is a duty we cannot shirk if we are to meet the obligations that are ours in an uncertain world.

The temptation will be, of course, to exploit the troubles of American occupation commanders for political purposes. Those troubles are very real. Our occupation forces have been scaled down and scaled down and scaled down again, until reliance must be placed on green, scarcely trained troops 18 and 19 years old. One result is indiscipline and violence, since even for a seasoned army the role of occupation is a difficult one.

—SECRET REPORT RELEASED—
The senate's defense investigating committee has as a piece of unfinished business an investigation into our occupation of Germany. On the basis of a tour of our zone, the committee's investigator, George Meader, wrote a sensational report which the Republican minority gave out in spite of a majority vote to withhold it. The mischievous Meader report showed the sensational headlines on sex and crime that could come out of a brief look into the conduct of our forces in what was once Hitler's Reich.

The new Republican chairman of the Defense Investigating Committee will be Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, who is hell bent for bigger and better investigations. Just now he is saying little about the possibility of an inquiry in Germany, pending a final decision by the Republican majority on the future of the committee, which the GOP steering group in the senate has approved for continuance in 1947. But Brewster certainly has not abandoned the idea.

Such an inquiry would be going far afield from the original objective of the committee started by President Truman when he was a member of the senate. The language of the original resolution authorized the committee "to make a full and complete study and investigation of the operation of the program for the procurement and construction of supplies, materials, munitions, vehicles, aircraft and facilities in connection with the national defense." The resolution then specified contracts, labor, small business, etc., and at the end there in one of those blanket clauses, "such other matters as the committee deems appropriate."

When the German investigation was originally proposed, Senators Vandenberg and Connally and Secretary of State Byrnes all strongly advised against it. They were acutely aware of how the sensational headlines—and the inevitable public reaction—would jeopardize the status of negotiations over Germany.

—CLAY WORKING HARD—

Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay and the men working with him in Germany are struggling to bring the British and U. S. zones at least a little nearer to self-sufficiency. They know that the American taxpayer will sooner or later rebel at supporting a German poorhouse.

Recently Clay has had fairly definite indications that the Russians were thinking seriously of uniting their zone with the British and American zones for economic cooperation. The Soviets have been sending raw materials into the Russian zone to keep certain plants in operation there. But this cannot go on indefinitely in view of the great need inside the Soviet Union for all possible resources for the task of rehabilitation.

In the interval between the November election and the convening of Congress, a number of senators have visited Europe. Most of them are bringing back reports that take into account the overwhelming problems of our occupation commanders.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon says that the fault is not inside Germany but inside the USA for our failure to support the men to whom we have given responsibility for occupation. They have been stripped of the men and the tools to do the job, says Morse, at the very time when we should be planning a long-term occupation of Germany with an adequate and responsible force.

Sen. Brian McMahon, one of the ablest surviving Democrats in the senate, takes more or less the same point of view. So do others on both sides of the aisle. Armed with knowledge and a desire to be fair, these men may be able to prevent the kind of cheap sensationalism which would do infinite harm.

pany of one who says, "Pardon me, but you should say 'tomorrow will be Sunday,' it is perfectly legitimate to ask him 'If tomorrow is not Sunday, then what day is it?'"

Let's look at it this way: There is a rule in grammar that statements of facts that are permanently true should be put in the present tense. Now it is permanently true that the day which follows today is (present tense) always tomorrow. It is permanently true that Sunday always follows (present tense) Saturday; or, in other words, Sunday always is (present tense) the day after Saturday. Therefore, on any Saturday tomorrow is Sunday.

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

MEETING MR. TANGUAY — Yesterday's column in this series describing a tour of Delta county roads ended at Bark River. Today, before getting too far away from the Bark River community, we will call on Omer Tanguay, supervisor of that township, and as we found out, a man who likes to do wood work in his farm shop. Incidentally, the "we" on this tour of the county are J. T. Sharpsteen, county road commission superintendent-engineer, Henry Wylie, county road commissioner, and Bill Karas, drafting engineer for the road commission.

Heading north from Bark River on county road 535 toward Shafter we passed the Helmer Bruce place and stopped at the farm of Supervisor Tanguay, whose forty acres and his dairy herd keep him busy. The white house looked freshly painted and trim, and at the barn Tanguay's son directed us to the farm shop where Omer had a fire in a little room heater and was building a small table, "I'm taking it easy," said Omer, "my boy's home from school for the holidays and I put him to work."

A BETTER TIME — Commissioner Wylie explained that we were on tour of county roads at his request, because he was new to the job, being recently appointed by the county board of supervisors, and wanted to know more about the county road system.

"That's a good thing," Omer nodded in agreement, "but you should come around in the spring when the roads are breaking up. That would give you a better idea where work is needed. All the roads are frozen solid now."

THIRTY seven employees of the Escanaba Daily Press, accompanied by their wives or guests, participated in the third annual "family reunion dinner" given by the Press management Saturday night, in the Delta hotel.

spirit move far back from the beaten path, clear land and begin farming. After they are firmly settled and have a family of children who must attend school, they ask to have a county road extended to serve them.

Most of these requests are legitimate, some are not. Sharpsteen told of one man who badgered the commission mercilessly for a road extension to his residence. He claimed he wanted the road "only to get his car out." Immediately after the road was constructed the man began hauling out huge truckloads of pulpwood, revealing his real reason for the request.

LAND ZONING—Some control over helter-skelter settlement on poor lands far from schools or roads will be possible under the land zoning program. And with the extension of rural electric lines along present county roads, new settlers are expected to stay closer to that modern source of power and light.

CALLING ALL PLOWS — Sharpsteen pointed out in the ensuing conversation that the county road commission engineer and foremen were sometimes tricked into emergency snowplowing during storms. He recalled that one time a snowplow was sent on a "mercy" call when it was reported that it was necessary to take a person to a hospital from an isolated place during a storm.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1937

Representative-elect John Luecke, Escanaba Democrat who will begin his first term in the house next Tuesday, said today he intended to reopen the fight for congressional approval of a toll bridge linking upper and lower Michigan across the Straits of Mackinac.

Escanaba motorists went through the New Year holiday without a serious accident, in spite of hazardous conditions of ice, fog and slush.

Windrows of ice thrown up by the heavy wind blocked the Reiss Coal company tug in its attempt to get out of the Escanaba harbor Friday, and the boat returned to the coal dock at night, after battling the ice all day.

Gladstone—Carl Widar, 908 Wisconsin avenue, had a narrow escape from drowning New Year's morning when he went through the ice in the water of Little Bay de Nocquet, a short ways from the local water plant.

Rev. Fr. Joseph E. Guertin will give a travelogue at the regular dinner meeting of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Ludington hotel.

20 Years Ago—1927

Sault Ste. Marie—Riding an ice raft a half mile square, two Round Island fishermen and a broncho were driven around Lake Superior for three days and two nights before their ice raft carried them to Isle d'Anticosti last Friday where they were rescued by the island light-house keeper, Douglas, it became known here today.

Mabel Dayton, proprietor of a cigar store at 507 First avenue north, reported to police that she was held up and robbed by an armed man on New Year's Eve. The robber got about $7 from the store's "till."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—One big thing the new Republican majority can do for congress is to revive old-fashioned standards of morality when it comes to pocketbook congressmen.

A pocketbook congressman is one who thinks more of his pocketbook interest than the public interest, and in recent years there have been far too many of same.

Here is how it works. When Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, of Oklahoma, was making speeches against any curbs on cotton speculation at the very same time his wife was speculating on the cotton market, Thomas was not working for the public interest. He was working for his pocketbook interest.

And when Congressman Frank Keefe, Republican, of Wisconsin, led the fight to ban national cemeteries for war heroes, putting across a profitable plan for private cemeteries at the very same time he was president of the private Lakeview cemetery at Oshkosh, he was working not for the public interest but for his own pocket book interest.

Both the justice department and congress itself have been lethargic regarding pocketbook congressmen. When Rep. Gene Cox of Georgia, Democrat, was found to have taken a lobbying fee (less polite people called it a bribe), the justice department looked the other way.

Last spring when this column exposed the cotton speculations of the Thomas and Bankhead families, a copy of the exposure was sent to every member of the U. S. senate by this writer asking for opinion on whether the senate should be used as a medium for influencing cotton speculation. Several senators expressed themselves vigorously though privately, but only two—Glen Taylor of Idaho, a Democrat, and Wayne Morse of Oregon, a Republican—were willing to do anything publicly.

Today, however, the shocking war-contract scandals of Senator Bilbo of Mississippi and Rep. May of Kentucky have given Republican leaders a real chance to apply the new broom. They can require every member of congress to register his private stock—market operations, his fees received by law firms, and the financial interest he holds in various companies.

The case bill would have required labor unions to register salaries, income and expenditure—all for public inspection. This should be done. But what's the sauce for the labor goose is also sauce for the congressional gander.

—GOP SENATORS SNARL—
Senate Republicans started off with a certain amount of angry snarling at their first caucus this week, but were finally whipped into line by Senator Bob Taft's steam-roller methods. He cracked the lash over the secret caucus like a circus ring-master, as the three insurgents—Tobey of New Hampshire, Wilson of Iowa, and Reed of Kansas—will testify.

After it was all over, most senators issued harmony statements, but the senator from New Hampshire let the cat out of the bag when half humorously, half plaintively, he admitted:

"Shots were fired, but when they hit the old armor plate they just ricocheted."

Real fact is that it was young Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts who saved the day for the Taft majority by diplomatically stepping aside when Senator Tobey proposed a resolution restoring Lodge's seniority lost during war service.

"If we take this action," proposed the New Hampshire senator, "the senate will do honor to itself. It will also give encouragement to every war veteran and increase public confidence in the senate."

Tobey then quote the selective service act stating that war veterans in government and other jobs should not lose their seniority.

"We ourselves should live up to what we enacted for others," Tobey continued, "by not depriving any senator who served his country his rightful seniority."

This plea, however, fell on unresponsive ears. There was a dead and embarrassing silence—so embarrassing that young Lodge rose to his feet and said:

"I want to thank my colleague from New Hampshire for the compliment he has paid me. However, I don't think it would be fair for me to accept seniority for the three years I was in the war, when I was only doing my duty like millions of others. I therefore would be grateful if the senator would withdraw his resolution."

Tobey did so amid applause.

—MILLIKIN HELPS STEAM-ROLL—

There was one other slap-down during the caucus, when Wilson objected to voting on sudden notice for Edward McGinnis, Chicago war vet, as sergeant-at-arms. "It is unfair to the majority of Republicans to expect us to vote on a candidate we know nothing about," he protested. "We should have been given the names of men to be nominated a few days in advance."

"Do you have a candidate?" an unidentified voice asked tauntingly of Wilson.

"No, I do not," replied Wilson. Senator Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, a strong Taft supporter, who was then presiding, relayed this question to the assembled caucus. No one else had a candidate, and that seemed to settle the matter. It also settled Wilson, who gave up in disgust.

However, if Senator Taft and his top-kicks can continue to run "the most exclusive gentlemen's club in the world" in this high-handed fashion, they will be in for plenty of headaches before the 80th Congress is over.

If you go through life without accomplishing anything, growing old is an awful waste of time.

The same love that makes the whole world go 'round makes young people stop—and park.

About the most important thing going on these days is those heavy undies.

TWO SERIOUSLY HURT BY AUTO

Leo Caron And Herbert Hoes Struck While On Milk Route

Leo Caron, 35, of 510 North 20th street, Escanaba, and Herbert Hoes, 37, of Wells, were seriously injured at 6:35 a. m. yesterday east of Rapid River on US-2 when they were struck by a car driven by Charles Nantell, 14, of 113 South 23rd street Escanaba.

Caron's condition was reported by physicians as "very serious". He suffered the fracture of several ribs on the right side, and the perforation and collapse of his right lung, and the destruction of his external right ear, compound fracture of the right leg below the knee, and internal injuries.

Hoes suffered fractures of the right arm and right leg, and his injuries were described as "severe." Both are receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital.

State police of the Gladstone post who investigated the accident said the two men, employees of Lied's milk company, were loading milk into their truck which was parked off the pavement in a cleared space on the north side of the highway.

They reported that the car driven by the Nantell boy, going west on US-2, turned to the right when he saw the truck and ran off the pavement and into the men. It was early morning and the lights of the truck and car were on. State police said they believed the boy became confused and kept to his right side of the highway, thinking the truck was moving. They reported that the boy had no operator's license.

Two other accidents were reported in the county yesterday morning.

At Rapid River at 12:30 a. m. Mildred Lucille Fish of Stonington, waiting at Rapid River to board a bus to Houghton, walked into the side of a car driven by Wilmer Leadman of Stonington. She was uninjured and continued on to Houghton.

Local Events Of 1946 Reflect Changing World

The unrest and change that marked affairs the world around in 1946 had their counterpart in local affairs, changing not only many of the old but also some of the new order of things, and making it one of the most lively in the history of Delta county.

Perhaps in part it was due to the reorganization and readjustment following the war, reflecting such changes locally as the closing of the OPA office in the First National Bank building in Escanaba, and the establishment there later of the Veterans Administration office for the Upper Peninsula.

End of the war and the homeward trek of veterans, together with the expansion of some local industries, brought the housing shortage to a peak. Thirteen emergency barracks to house 26 veterans and their families were started last spring in Escanaba and are still unfinished and so far unoccupied. The Chamber of Commerce cooperated in registering and attempting to find homes for the homeless, and the Escanaba Housing Commission has a list of several hundred persons wanting dwellings.

Some 60 new houses were built in Escanaba during the year, including controversial prefabs, economical concrete block, and several varieties of green and dry lumber.

In local government there were a few changes. Marvin L. Coon was elected, and Peter N. Logan reelected to the Escanaba city council; Marcus McNabb of Escanaba and August Larson of Rock retired from the county road commission, succeeded by Henry Wylie of Escanaba and Harry Greene of Garden.

The city of Escanaba began collecting garbage throughout the winter months for the first time in history. All city utilities showed a profit except the steam plant, the "baby" of the lot.

On the industrial front something new had been added, and 1946 may make history as the

New Year's Quiet But Police Chief Not Complacent

Escanaba's police department viewed the passing of 1946 with a certain satisfaction for work well done.

The New Year's holiday was a quiet one as far as the police department was concerned, free of major disturbances, despite a general celebration. Only a too-exuberant imbibor or two needed the calming influence of the men in the blue uniform.

Due possibly to the sub-zero weather which tended to immobilize automobiles, traffic accidents over the holiday were at a minimum, much to the satisfaction of Police Chief Ettenhofer—though his satisfaction was tinged with reservations.

1946 was not a good year for traffic accidents here in Escanaba, according to Chief Ettenhofer.

"Because we had two fatal accidents," the chief said yesterday. "It's true that traffic accidents are down. Stricter law enforcement and continued safety and educational campaigns have had much to do with that."

"But we had those two fatalities," the chief went on. "The figures aren't bad. But the facts are. To my notion you can't call it a good year as long as you have a man killed."

Napoleon Coyer of Wilson collided without injury to the drivers.

turning point in Escanaba's industrial expansion program. The Chamber of Commerce and the city council cooperated in boosting the city's industrial stock, with the Harnischfeger company of Milwaukee, and the Escanaba Glove company preparing to move into city-owned buildings. All of the existing companies were hopeful of prospects in the new year, and the volume of retail trade in the city was unofficially reported to have broken all previous records. Strikes in the iron mines last spring delayed ore shipping to the latest date in local history, and then the rail strike threatened still further delays. Once under way, however, the C&NW ore docks in Escanaba loaded the red dust into the long ships almost without ceasing until navigation closed.

When John L. Lewis' coal miners walked out last fall, Escanaba and the surrounding area kept its lights on, unlike most communities across the nation. Reason was that the local power company was generating current with water-power and wasn't using coal.

The Delta county board of supervisors, in annual dispute over equalization of property values between the cities and townships, later heard the state tax commission decide equalized values that left the whole question still in the air. As the old year ended a special committee of the board struggled to bring a little basic order out of considerable chaos.

On the political front, all Delta county incumbent office holders were reelected, the Democrats making what might be described as a "clean sweep". One contest, that for representative in the legislature, was still undecided, awaiting action by the legislature on whether to seat Mrs. Violet Patterson, Democrat, or grant a petition for a recount requested by Roy A. Jensen, Republican. In the city of Escanaba, several veteran city employees retired under the state administered pension plan. They included Fire Chief Arvid Johnson, who later passed away, and City Treasurer A. J. Manley. Meanwhile the Delta county road commission is considering a pension plan for its employees.

And just before the year ended nearly a foot of snow blanketed the county, taxing to the limit the snow removal equipment of the city, and giving the county's new heavy truck-plows their initial winter workout.

Joke On Grandma

Mrs. Mary McPhee had a nerve-wracking experience Monday while caring for the two youngest children, Jerrylyn Ann and Randall, of her son Gordon. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McPhee, sons Gordon Lee and Neil, Jacqueline Reno and Helen McPhee motored to Escanaba to do some shopping. After dinner the children asked to be dressed for playing outside and so snowsuits were donned and Grandma went to ironing. That finished, she went on the porch and called the youngsters, but no response, so she tried the back and still no answer. Figuring that they must have gone to visit Grandma Reno and some distance down the road, she hurried there, with no success. Mr. Reno took his truck and visited all the neighbors with no better luck, so turned back to their home to investigate in the barn and other possible hiding places. Arrived back on the porch Mrs. McPhee noticed the couch which has stood out there for some months and the blanket which her son had discarded as he left home. Underneath, sound asleep were the two babes, snug as bugs in a rug and no worse for their experience. They explained that they often had taken a nap there after becoming tired of playing in the summer. With the rising excitement, Grandma had made up her mind to make the punishment fit the crime, but was relieved to find them safe and sound, and innocent.

ICE FISHING STARTS HERE

Fishermen To Drop Nets Through Four Inches Of Ice

Munising — With about four inches of ice on Munising Bay, local commercial fishermen will attempt to set their nets near the Western end of Grand Island Saturday, for their annual ice fishing for whitefish and lake trout.

This ice is plenty strong, Roy Mattson, one of the fishermen said yesterday, but one never knows how the weather will turn out and if the ice breaks up after the nets are set, it may be necessary to gather them up after the next freeze.

The ice east of Grand Island hasn't as yet frozen sufficiently to support the fishermen.

Munising commercial fishermen are hardy souls and do not use the "fishing shacks" familiar to other lake side communities but use only a "windbreak", while setting and pulling their nets. They haul their nets and equipment out on the ice mainly using sleds and dogs as transportation.

Anglers, too, will set up rigs when they put a line in the icy waters for trout.

Local MSES Office Places 770 Persons On Jobs In 1946

Munising — There were 770 placements on jobs in Alger county during 1946, it was announced by Walter C. Meyland, manager of the local Michigan State Employment Service office in the year end report. Of this total, 491 were veterans and 95 women workers. There was a total of 1234 persons referred to jobs in this period.

The total number of disabled veterans placed on jobs was 64. These included only those who had an occupational handicap. The number of handicapped non-veterans placed on jobs in the county and the state were 22 men and one woman.

On-the-job training has been successful in Munising and Alger county, Mr. Meyland said, but the results in actual figures was not available because co-operating agencies of the state haven't made complete reports as yet. Related training for the program is being given at the Veterans Institute at the Mather high school under the supervision of Emil W. Peterson, local veteran's Institute school coordinator.

DOUGHERTY IS UNDERSHERIFF

New Sheriff Will Swear In Deputies In Near Future

Munising — George Dougherty has been chosen to be undersheriff of Alger county it was announced by Sheriff Arthur Moote yesterday. One of the deputy sheriffs already chosen is to be Virgil Faircloth, Munising township, former state trooper now with the Closser Realty company branch office in Munising.

Other deputy sheriffs have not been chosen as yet, the sheriff said, as he wants to make a study of the townships first.

Neither the undersheriff or deputy sheriff have been sworn in as yet, pending the official papers needed for signatures. As soon as the papers are available, these men will assume their duties in official capacity.

Cold Spell Wanes And Spirits Rise, Boost To New Year
Munising—The temperature in Munising late Wednesday and early Thursday was rising and local folk's spirits began rising with it.

Old 1946 went out with a cold snap Tuesday evening and during the wee hours of 1947, or between 1 a. m. and 4 a. m. Wednesday, the thermometer at the weather observer's station took a nose-dive and hit 19 degrees below the zero mark, according to Albert Oas, local weather observer.

Late Wednesday, Oas stated that the temperature began climbing and reached 11 degrees above with an inclination of going higher. Thursday seemed somewhat warmer, and as a result, Munising citizens became more cheerful and "warmed up" to the New Year.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Batteries Being Produced Here Now By XGI Battery Company

After a long delay in production due to the lead shortage, the XGI Battery company is now producing new storage batteries. As the government restrictions have been lifted on lead, the company may now purchase all the lead it needs, provided the lead can be obtained at the supply of lead is still short.

At the present time the battery company is not suffering from a deficiency. Rubber battery cases have been difficult to obtain but the two ex-GI's hope to keep production at its present level.

The first batteries made by the XGI Battery company will have the trade name Spiffire. Both John Kossow and his partner, Leslie Plimpton, hope to increase production when materials are easier to obtain and hope to reach a level far above that of 30 batteries per day which is their present average production. All necessary equipment for manufacturing on a larger scale is on hand but materials are slow to arrive.

The company has expanded its floor space and will add a combination store and office where they will handle battery cables and other accessories. The factory space has also been enlarged in order to give customers a more complete battery service. The battery repair shop will be continued in addition to the battery factory which is manufacturing new batteries and the number of employees has increased. Originally the two veterans had planned to have a two-man shop but with the large amount of trade received, they have added three more employees and will add more in the coming year.

New batteries are being sold to jobbers and dealers throughout the Escanaba area and the partners hope eventually to cover the entire Upper Peninsula with their complete line of batteries and battery accessories.

F. B. Bickle With Soo Line Over Fifty Years

A story concerning the retirement of F. B. Bickle, Glenwood, Minn., veteran Soo Line engineer, which appeared in the Minneapolis Times of Dec. 31 will be of interest to many old time Soo Line employees.

Bickle worked out of Gladstone many years ago.

The story: Glenwood, Minn. (AP)—F. B. Bickle, an engineer out of here for the Soo Line railroad for more than a half century, is swapping his whistle cords for fish lines.

"Fishing, hunting and some gardening—that will be my life from now on," declared Bickle as he stepped for the last time from the cab of a locomotive after having pulled in a 90-car freight train the 185 miles from Thief River Falls.

Born in England, he celebrated his golden anniversary with the Soo Line last September 25.

FARM DEALERS NAME RICHARDS

Is Appointed Director Of National Retail Implement Dealers

Lester Richards, local farm implement dealer, has been appointed one of the directors of the National Retail Farm Equipment Association, according to information received here Tuesday.

Richards' position on this board comes by reason of his appointment to the post of national councilor for the Michigan association for 1947.

Heretofore this board of directors was chosen at large from the country and had been restricted to a membership of twelve. This has been increased to twenty-five with a member chosen from each of the twenty-five states in which the association operates.

Spring Cushion Repairing To Be Demonstrated

Homemakers in Schoolcraft county will learn how good sitting comfort can be obtained for 50 cents in the exhibit on "Repairing Inner Spring Cushion." This exhibit will be on display during Farm and Home Day on January 7.

Ordinary wear causes the separate cushions in davenports and chairs to become misshapen and uncomfortable, and often the cushion bulges in the center and sags at the edges. The spring coils that have worn through the muslin can be rebuilt by the average homemaker. This simple process is easily done at home. The repair of inner spring cushions costs very little and takes only about half a day of a homemaker's time. Feed sacks or unbleached muslin can be used for some of the material needed in the repair work.

The exhibit on Farm and Home Day will show one old cushion needing repair, one in which the springs have been put into new muslin sacks, and a third cushion with the spring and padding replaced into the upholstery.

CARLYON HOME WINS FIRST

Christmas Decorations Rated By Judges As Best In City

The Stanley Carlyon home at 550 Cherry street was adjudged the best decorated residence in the city and won the $25 prize offered by the Chamber of Commerce in the Christmas decoration contest sponsored by that organization.

The home of John Girvin Jr., at 700 Range street, was awarded second prize, and the Fred Williams home, at 639 Arbutus avenue, was given third prize.

Honorable mention went to the homes of Adam Heinz, 316 Lake; A. J. Cayia, Arbutus and Lake; and Mrs. Gordon Hughes, 728 Range street.

There were many beautiful Yule decorations all over the city and the judges found it hard to come to a full decision after making a city wide tour of inspection. Many homes stressed window decorations, but these could not be taken into consideration as exterior decorations were the sole basis for judgment.

The Chamber of Commerce expects to conduct similar contests among business places and homes next Christmas time.

Dan Call Gets Ticket No. 1 To Glove Tourney

Ticket No. 1 to Manistique's Golden Gloves elimination contests, Monday and Tuesday, January 6 and 7, went to Dan Call, who has charge of Chair No. 2 at Hackenbrach's Barber Shop.

Getting the first fight ticket sold is an obsession with Mr. Call who holds Ticket No. 1 stubs for glove tournaments and fights from all over these parts.

According to Clint Leonard, who has general supervision of the promotion of the two night boxing show, Call was followed in close order by a score or more of purchasers and the advance sale of tickets has been progressing nicely ever since. There are still plenty of seats—both ringside and reserved—still available says Leonard.

More than 1,000,000 Americans travel to foreign countries every year in normal times.

Prevention Of Spud Diseases A Feature At Farm Show Jan. 7

Another feature attraction at the Farm and Home Show scheduled for January 7 in Manistique will be a device to cut seed potatoes to prevent the spread of bacterial ring rot. Tests have shown that the principal way of spreading the disease is with the cutting knife at the time of cutting the seed for planting. A simple device that keeps the cutting knife sterile at all times will be shown on a full size scale with complete drawings for its construction at the farm.

Bacterial ring rot, a rather new potato disease to Michigan growers, has threatened the industry and it is only through recent studies that scientists have discovered ways and means for its control. It has been proven that the disease spreads at the rate of five times the amount present in the seed stock for each year it is planted without practicing control measures. This means that if a grower has one per cent in his seed stock he can expect five per cent in the crop that year. This five per cent becomes twenty-five per cent the next year. Since over 90 per cent of this spread is through the cutting knife it is easy to see the importance of taking precautions at this stage of potato production.

Virginia Gray Becomes Bride Of James Larson

Virginia Marie Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Gray, and Peter James Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Larson, 219 Lake street, were united in marriage at the Zion Lutheran church of Manistique, at 3 p. m. on December 30, the Rev. G. A. Herbert officiating.

Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom, organist, played the traditional nuptial music and Miss Margaret Burgess sang "I Love Thee" and "Through The Years." The church and home were decorated with Christmas trees and flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown with a satin top, long finger-tip sleeves, and sweetheart neckline trimmed in lace. The skirt was made of nylon marquisette fashioned with a long train. Her fingertip veil was gathered to a crown of seed pearls in her hair. The bridal bouquet was made up of pink roses.

Miss Marian Gray, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a pink taffeta gown with a shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. William Larson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and Paul Larson acted as usher.

Mrs. Gray attended her daughter's wedding wearing a black dress trimmed with silver nail heads. Mrs. Larson was dressed similarly. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

Twenty-five guests attended the wedding dinner which was served at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. A large tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, was the centerpiece of the table.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will make their home in Manistique.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and has been employed at the A & P store. The bridegroom also attended Manistique high school, and was recently discharged from the navy.

Two Rinks Are Back In Service After Snowstorm

The skating rink at the old Hiawatha Hotel site in the vicinity of the Soo Line depot, and the hockey rink near the quarry pool are in shape for skating, James Dickson, city manager states.

The stadium rink is still heavily covered with snow and it not likely that it will be in shape for use until about the first of the week as the crews ordinarily employed in flooding the rink are still working with the snow clearing crews.

Pvt. Robert Louis of the Marine Corps has returned to his base in Norfolk, Va., after visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Louis.

Coming Marriage Of Former Local Resident Announced

An engagement announcement of local interest comes from Perry, Ohio, where Mr. and Mrs. James H. West announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Jean West, to Bernard T. Lomas, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Percy L. Lomis of Willis.

The Lomas family is well known in Manistique as the Rev. Lomis was, for several years, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Bernard Lomas is a graduate of Albion college and is now in his second year of study at the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and is serving as pastor of the Methodist church at Perry, Ohio.

The bride to be is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University where she is a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority. She is now employed with the Higby Company of Cleveland, Ohio. The wedding will take place in June.

ILLINI SWAMP UCLA, 45 TO 14

Big Nine Champs Score
Decisive Victory
In Rose Bowl

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Underdog Illinois, champion of the Western conference, rolled to a 45-14 victory over UCLA in the Rose bowl here Wednesday. Al Hoisch, Bruin back, scampered 103 yards for a record touchdown dash.

Illini End Bill Huber returned the kick-off 15 yards to the Illini 40. Quarterback Perry Moss passed 28 yards to Julie Rykovich who ran to the UCLA 16 yard line. Buddy Young made six at right end and eight at left tackle to take the ball to the Bruin two. On third down, Rykovich cracked right guard for a touchdown. Don Maechtle's conversion try was wide, and Illinois led, 6-0.

The Bruins came back with a 28 yard forward-lateral from Ernie Case to Burr Baldwin to Tom Fears to the Illini 46. After a punt exchange, Case passed to Al Hoisch who ran 25 yards to the Illini two. On third down, Case sneaked over for a touchdown and kicked goal to put the Bruins ahead, 7-6.

The midwesterners rolled down the field a total of 77 yards to another touchdown in the second period with Young sprinting over tackle from the two Maechtle's conversion was good, putting Illinois in front, 13-7.

Illini Scored Third
UCLA was unable to gain after taking the following kick-off and Case punted. Illinois, taking the ball on its own 49, moved down field again behind the devastating blocking of its forward wall. The Illini scored in nine plays with Patterson streaking four yards off tackle. Maechtle's kick was wide, leaving the score 19-7.

After two exchanges, Patterson broke away for 19 and Rykovich added nine, then made a first down on the UCLA 17. Patterson circled end for 16 to the Bruin one. Moss sneaked over center for the score. Maechtle's place kick was blocked.

Al Hoisch, Bruin left half, nabbed the next kick-off on a bounce in his end zone and ran 103 yards for the longest touchdown in Rose bowl history. Case kicked goal, to make it 25-14 in favor of the Illini. The half ended three plays later.

Young Breaks Away
Young broke away on a 28 yard punt return, completely reversing his field, early in the third quarter. But UCLA held, forcing Illinois to punt over the Bruin goal. Taking over on their 20, the Bruins began a drive which saw Cal Rossi make seven, Case pass to Baldwin for 11, then again Fullback Jack Myers for 14 and a first down on the Illinois 39. End Sam Zatkoff then threw Skip Rowland for an eight yard loss and the march fizzled. Ben Reiges punted to the Illini 14.

The Illini then clawed their way back up the field, with Rykovich, Young and Russ Steger cracking off huge gains almost at will. Young twice broke away for 14 yards. The drive covered more than 80 yards to the six inch line.

Young drove over for a touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter. Maechtle's placement was good and the Illini led, 32-14.

Hoisch returned the ensuing kickoff 61 yards. On second down, Steger intercepted Case's pass and ran 64 yards for another Illinois touchdown. Maechtle's conversion was spoiled by a bad center pass. Score: Illinois 32, UCLA 14.

With Illini second stringers finishing out the game, the ball seemed back and forth with exchanges of intercepted passes. The Illini reserves went to the Bruin 20 but were stopped by an interception of Tom Stewart's pass on the Bruin eight. Minutes later, Illinois got another gift touchdown as Case threw a flat pass into the arms of Skip Tackle Stan Green who ran 10 yards to score. Maechtle's kick made it 45-14.

WILDCATS NEXT MICHIGAN FOE

Ann Arbor, Jan. 2 (AP)—Michigan basketball coach Ozzie Cowles today alerted his team on defense in preparation for the first Big Nine clash of the season with Northwestern Saturday night.

The Wolverines, back from a three-game road trip in which they twice defeated Iowa State and downed Marquette, were warned that to win they would have to stop a pair of Wildcat high scorers, Guard Ben Schadler and Forward Bill Sticken. Sticken in six pre-conference games has averaged 10 points while Schadler has averaged 13. The game will open conference campaign for both squads and their won-and-lost records going into the tilt are strictly similar. Northwestern has victories over Ripon, Marquette, Pittsburgh, North Carolina and Butler. Its only defeat was scored by Southern California.

The Michigan outfit likewise has five wins and one defeat. In addition to Iowa State and Marquette, the Wolverines have beaten Michigan State and Stanford. Their only defeat was at the hands of Western Michigan 61-65.

Cowles said he was well satisfied with the road performance of his Wolverines, especially the Elliott brothers, Capt. Pete and Bump, at the guard positions and Forward Gerrit Wierda, who was not considered most likely to succeed when the season began.

Against Iowa State Wierda caged 13 points to share honors with Center Bill Roberts, and Cowles said he is ready now for full duty, if needed. The Elliotts are transfers from the football squad.

Crosetti Appointed Yank Player-Coach

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Baldish Frankie Crosetti, who has been playing the infield for the New York Yankees since the Babe Ruth era, was rewarded for long and faithful service today by an appointment as player-coach under Manager Bucky Harris.

The San Francisco born Italian indicated he planned to continue part time playing duty. Although he played only 28 games last season, he was the regular shortstop during 1945, the last wartime season, and had played the position for the Yanks from 1922 through 1940 when Phil Rizzuto graduated to the big league from Kansas City.

Trenary To Play Cox Quintet In Munising Tonight

Munising — The Munising Cox Chev. basketball five will try for their first win in four starts when they battle a Trenary quintet in a non-league game to be played at the Mather high school gymnasium Friday evening beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

The local team lost their game last week with Manistique there in overtime play by a score of 54-49.

Facing the Munising quintet Friday night will be a team with three wins of five starts. The local five's game with Neeanue New Year's day was cancelled.

Starting for the Cox team tonight will be Cox and Steinhoff, forwards, Rousseau center and Dotti and Oas forwards.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

All of the furor on the west coast that followed the announcement of Illinois' selection to the Rose Bowl instead of Army must have looked rather silly to the coastal fans after the Western conference champs knocked off UCLA, 45 to 14, New Year's Day.

The Illini victory was so convincing that UCLA, pre-game favorite, hardly belonged in the same stadium with the Big Nine titlists. West Coast fans had only two opportunities to cheer during the entire game, once in the first period when UCLA took a 7-6 lead and again just before the first half ended when Al Hoisch ran 103 yards for the longest touchdown run in Rose Bowl history. Despite that run, Illinois led at half time, 25-14.

The Shrine bowl game at San Francisco, the East once again was laced by the jinx that has plagued their annual performance in the charity battle. The statistics proved that the East was the better team, but the West won, 13 to 9. The East led twice during the game and after West had scored what proved to be the winning touchdown, East was knocking at the West door throughout the entire fourth quarter but couldn't push over the clincher.

The Golden Gloves "season" officially opens Monday night at Manistique when the Delta-Schoolcraft sub-regional tournament get under way. The event will run through two evenings, Monday and Tuesday, and local boxing fans can purchase reserved sea tickets here at Gust Aspi's.

Boxers Manistique, Escanaba, Gladstone, Bark River, Rock and probably Nahma will be featured on the show. The Soo tournament will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 8-9. Marquette's sub-regional will be presented the following Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 13-14. Houghton's tournament will be Jan. 14-16. Nothing yet from Ironwood and Iron Mountain regarding their dates and it becomes increasingly doubtful either of those centers will be operating this season.

Pete Dube, veteran Escanaba speed skater, who has been looking for competition in his age group for many seasons, may get it this winter. J. Jones, an old timer from Cleveland, now working on the trestle repair job at the Escanaba Coal and Dock company, is a veteran speed and figure skater and has taken a few practice spins at the indoor rink.

Jones is about 60 and Dube is still going strong at 68. There is a possibility that the two old timers may get together for an exhibition match in Escanaba this winter.

Although Dube has done all of his training thus far at the indoor rink, he prefers the outdoor rinks because the air is fresh and there is less danger of overheating. The recent snowstorm blotted out the outdoor rinks but they'll be ready in another day or so, at which time Dube will transfer his daily spin outdoors. The Escanaba veteran, however, reported that the ice at the indoor rink is in top condition and pointed to the fact that he has not sharpened his skates once since he began training.

All players selected for the Fifth and Sixth grade all-star teams will play an exhibition game between halves of the Escanaba VFW-Chicago Brown Bombers game next Thursday, Jan. 9, at the junior high school. Players are asked to report at seven o'clock Thursday.

Ben Hogan seems Man To Beat in Los Angeles Open

Los Angeles, Jan. 2 (AP)—Money-winning Ben Hogan holds the dubious honor of the golfer to beat when the 21st annual $10,000 Los Angeles Open gets underway tomorrow over the long Riviera Country Club course.

Hogan captured top honors in the 1942 Los Angeles event, and was runner-up to Byron Nelson on the Riviera course last year.

Nelson is now retired from golf. First money this year is $2,000 and Hogan, who earned approximately $42,000 to lead the professionals of the nation last year, was generally picked to pocket the cash.

As usual, however, the field is tough, and includes Sam Snead, the 1945 Los Angeles winner. National Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Chick Harbert, Herman Barron and other familiar tournament names.

No Grade School Basketball Saturday

There will be no grade school basketball schedule Saturday because none of the city gymnasiums will be available, but the grade school schedule will be resumed Saturday, Jan. 11, it has been announced by Cliff Frasher.

All players selected for the Fifth and Sixth grade all-star teams will play an exhibition game between halves of the Escanaba VFW-Chicago Brown Bombers game next Thursday, Jan. 9, at the junior high school. Players are asked to report at seven o'clock Thursday.

Ice Storm Delays Alamo Bowl Game

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 2 (AP)—Taxes, a stadium lease and ticket refunds plagued sponsors of the Alamo Bowl today in the wake of a three-day postponement.

Hundreds of fans who came here yesterday for the charity contest between Hardin-Simmons and Denver University started home last night after a heavy ice storm delayed the game until Saturday. Scores of ticket holders from West Texas were unable to make the trip because of dangerous road conditions.

Final Instructions For Boxers Tonight

Although the boxing training program at the fairgrounds exhibition building will have to be cancelled tonight because of conflict with the Home and Farm day program at the fairgrounds, all local boxers, including lads from Bark River and Gladstone are asked to report at the fairgrounds at eight o'clock for final arrangements for the trips to Manistique Monday and Tuesday.

Grid Experts Decide Illinois Must Have Been Hot, UCLA Cold

BY BOB MYERS

Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—As a jubilant Illinois football squad headed homeward, 40 or more grid experts—coaches, patrons and writers—sat down at a luncheon today to mull over the rout of UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

For the big majority, the steak on the menu tasted peculiarly like crow. They had picked UCLA to win.

Various explanations were advanced for the 45-14 Illini triumph over the Bruins. The consensus was that Illinois was hot and UCLA cold.

Learned Dudley De Groot,

coach of the professional Los Angeles Dons, said the visitors "had a definite psychological advantage."

Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson of the Big Nine, whose steak tasted like steak, nodded and added, "there isn't a coach in the country better able to point a team for a certain game than Ray Eliot of Illinois."

Jess Hill, assistant coach at Southern California, who scouted UCLA in six games, comforted the mourners with, "UCLA didn't play like the team I saw in those six games. They were down, Illinois was up."

The Illinois coach, slated to fly to New York, was unable to attend. His rival yesterday, Bert La Brucherie, seated as the honor guest, was more to the point.

"I think that speed—overall speed by the Illini line and their backs—was what beat us. And don't forget," he said, "there was some great coaching shown on that field yesterday."

La Brucherie said the deciding play, from his viewpoint, was when Buddy Young, early in the second quarter, on third down and 11 to go, cut loose from what appeared to be a screen pass play and sprinted 16 yards to the Bruin 22.

"That set up the second touchdown and broke our backs," La Brucherie asserted.

Arizona Five Beats Spartans, 45 to 43

East Lansing, Mich., Jan. 2 (AP)—A fast-breaking university of Arizona quintet squeezed out a 45-43 win over Michigan State college's basketball team here tonight.

The barnstorming Arizona team grabbed a 29-21 halftime lead and then repelled Michigan State's last half efforts to tie up the ball game.

The home team narrowed Arizona's lead to two points with only a minute to play, but the winners froze the ball long enough to take the game.

Chicago, Jan. 2 (AP)—(USDA)—Live hogs, 25 cents to $1.00 a hundred pounds. Hog prices slipped today to their lowest point since the ending of the indoor controls in October, or a practical top of $21.00.

Cattle, however, held mostly steady on anticipation receipts will be curtailed in nearby sections because of heavy snowstorms. Steers topped at $22.00, long yearlings at $21.00, heifers at $20.50, sausage bulls at $17.00, and weaners $25.00. Most steers and yearlings brought $19.00 to $25.00 with scattered loads between $25.00 and $30.00. Only cows declined 25 cents or more, most heifers $12.50 to $15.00.

Cleanance was complete on heavy hog supplies of 16,000 salable, 2,000 holdovers, and 10,500 packer consignments. Shippers bought 6,000 head. Hogs under 250 pounds generally were 75 cents to $1.00 down at $20.75 to $21.00, with 300 head of choice, 200-pounders out of line at $21.35. Heavyweights were but 25 cents down at $20.50 to $20.85. Sows were 50 to 75 cents lower at $17.25 to $17.75.

Slaughter lambs and ewes held steady at $23.85 and $7.50 respectively. Receipts included 12,900 cattle, 1,000 calves, and 5,500 sheep.

Steers topped at $22.00, long yearlings at $21.00, heifers at $20.50, sausage bulls at $17.00, and weaners $25.00. Most steers and yearlings brought $19.00 to $25.00 with scattered loads between $25.00 and $30.00. Only cows declined 25 cents or more, most heifers $12.50 to $15.00.

Cleanance was complete on heavy hog supplies of 16,000 salable, 2,000 holdovers, and 10,500 packer consignments. Shippers bought 6,000 head. Hogs under 250 pounds generally were 75 cents to $1.00 down at $20.75 to $21.00, with 300 head of choice, 200-pounders out of line at $21.35. Heavyweights were but 25 cents down at $20.50 to $20.85. Sows were 50 to 75 cents lower at $17.25 to $17.75.

Slaughter lambs and ewes held steady at $23.85 and $7.50 respectively. Receipts included 12,900 cattle, 1,000 calves, and 5,500 sheep.

Chicago, Jan. 2 (AP)—(USDA)—Hog prices slipped today to their lowest point since the ending of the indoor controls in October, or a practical top of $21.00.

Cattle, however, held mostly steady on anticipation receipts will be curtailed in nearby sections because of heavy snowstorms. Hundreds To Attend Delta County Farm And Home Show Tomorrow

DISPLAYS WILL FEATURE SHOW

Fair Grounds Exhibition Building Prepared For Program

The Delta county Farm and Home Show will be held at the exhibition building, U. P. State Fair grounds in Escanaba starting Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and will be featured by exhibits and displays of interest not only to farm but city folk as well.

Dr. C. H. Harrison, East Lansing, pasture specialist with Michigan State College, whose appearance at the county Dairy Day last year was well received, will return to address the Farm and Home Show this year, it was announced by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent. The return of Dr. Harrison was requested by Delta county farm people.

Delta county residents who arrive for the morning program will have a noon lunch served to them at cost, and will have added time to view the many exhibits and displays which have been arranged by Michigan State College Extension Service. The exhibits are in the south end of the exhibition building, which is well heated and comfortable for wintertime use.

In addition to the exhibits pertaining to dairy farming, there is one whole section on the farm kitchen, and others on various phases of more convenient and healthy farm living. D. L. Clannahan, crops specialist, has installed other displays and exhibits on potatoes and general farm crops, and the 4-H club agents have set up displays featuring their program.

Novelty contest is the wood guessing game, in which any farm resident can enter and compete for prizes. Local business houses and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce are cooperating in sponsorship of the Farm and Home Show, which is expected to become a popular annual event.

The afternoon program, at which Dr. Harrison will be heard, will start at 1:30 o'clock. Several

Snowstorm Cancels Sault Air Service

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Air and mail service to the Sault, halted since last Thursday by blizzards and 14 inches of snow on runways at Kinross airport, will be resumed as soon as weather and snow conditions permit, E. A. Clark, Capital Airlines representative, said.

At present runways are not being cleared of snow by city or other governmental units as the airport is still U. S. government property, with a Sault Ste. Marie city license application made in June still waiting formal approval from the War Department, it was pointed out by Clark.

Clark said today he hopes for development of a definite program of improvement for the airport at a meeting of city, PCA Capital and Trans-Canada Airways representatives tentatively set for January 8 at the Sault.

"TCA with a proposed route across the Northern Peninsula has hopes of making Kinross a port of entry, and if this should be accomplished the government airport should be a busy place as a terminal for two airlines. With TCA landing several times within a period of 24 hours it is possible landing lights and other improvements including a snow removal program will be called for," said Clark.

Snow removal would be a large job at the airport, and if provided for even now, it is likely such a

NO HALF YEAR AUTO LICENSES

Six Months Tags Still Available For Commercial Vehicles

Half year license plates for passenger automobiles, instituted in depression years, will not be available this year, it has been announced by the secretary of state's office in Lansing.

The announcement was made in Lansing Tuesday by the retiring secretary of state, Herman H. Dignam, following a conference with his successor, Frederick M. Alger, Jr., who took over the secretary of state job on New Year's Day.

Dignam said the decision to discontinue half year plates was made because of the shortage of steel, but the improved business conditions probably constitute another important reason for the change. It is recalled that when half year plates were first authorized in depression years, stickers were sold in place of metal plates.

Half year tags will still be available for commercial vehicles, program would be slow as all removal equipment is taxed to the limit, it has been pointed out.

however.

William Ranguette, manager of the Escanaba, auto license branch, reported yesterday that the sale of full year passenger plates is brisk. He added that the order cancelling half year plates affects about one third of the automobile owners in the county as this was approximately the percentage of motorists who purchased half year plates in previous years.

The 1946 tags will expire at midnight February 28. Half year commercial plates are not now available at the local branch office, but are expected to arrive early in February.

Harold Richards, range superintendent for the Pickands Mather firm, will be general superintendent in charge of the Davidson properties, it was announced here yesterday by A. D. Chisholm of Duluth, general manager and a partner in Pickands Mather & Co. Appointment of other supervisory personnel under Richards for the Davidson operations was not announced, because R. M.

Marshall of Pittsburgh, executive vice-president of Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Co., was unable to attend a conference scheduled for here. His plane was grounded and he could not make the trip.

EARLY NIGHT BALL GAME
Night baseball is not a new idea. A night game was played in Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1883. The diamond was lighted by 17 lamps suspended on masts. The game lasted only seven innings, but a total of 30 runs had been scored.
